Packing and Shipping:

Product Packaging for Hardtop Caravans:

Each hardtop caravan is carefully prepared for shipping with multiple layers of protection to ensure it arrives in pristine condition. The caravan is first cleaned and inspected thoroughly before being wrapped in a protective plastic film. This film provides a barrier against dust, moisture, and minor abrasions during transit.

After the initial wrapping, high-density foam padding is applied to all corners and edges, safeguarding against impact damage. The entire unit is then encased in a sturdy, custom-designed cardboard box that fits the caravan's dimensions precisely, providing additional structural support.

Finally, the boxed caravan is secured onto a wooden pallet, which facilitates safe handling and transportation. Strong straps are used to anchor the caravan to the pallet, and 'Fragile' and 'This Way Up' labels are prominently displayed to guide handlers.

Shipping for Hardtop Caravans:

All our hardtop caravans are shipped using trusted freight services that specialize in the transportation of oversized and heavy items.

Before dispatch, we ensure that all the necessary documentation for shipping, including insurance, permits, and customs declarations, is in order.

Our logistics team closely monitors the caravan's journey from our facility to your doorstep, providing you with tracking information so you can follow the progress of your delivery. We aim for the prompt and efficient delivery of your hardtop caravan, but please note that shipping times can vary based on destination and carrier workload.
